My husband Harry - knows my love for AfrikaBurn and proposed to me on a plane above AB in 2015.

I am a very hard worker, am dedicated, committed, compassionate and love new challenges. I work well under pressure and seek responsibility. I have also a great deal of experience in production management and operations management and co – ordination ordination.

I love working with people and have been fortunate enough to have worked all over the world in a variety of management and education related positions. I love healthy, outdoor living, and am passionate about South Africa. I have been to nine AfrikaBurns - and feel very much part of it - the culture, creativity and heartbeat.
